

Scoop a share of our £10,000

By JILL BUCHANAN

JOIN in Falkirk's greatest ever giveaway and grab a share of a £10,000 jackpot.

The Falkirk Herald, in conjunction with Combined Insurance, is offering community groups the chance of a bumper payout ranging from £50 to £1000 to carry out projects in the area.

It can be anything from painting a church hall or buying a special piece of equipment.

All they have to do is write in and say how much they want and how the cash will be used.

Successful groups will receive their cheques at a special event towards the end of the year.

Falkirk Herald editor Colin Hume said: "There are hundreds of groups in our area doing great work and we're delighted to be able to help them thanks to this link-up with Combined Insurance.

"We hope this scheme will make life a bit easier for the groups and put smiles on a few faces."

Combined Insurance has operated in the Falkirk area for 40 years and has around 2000 customers locally, with 600,000 policyholders in the UK and Ireland.

Managing director Clive Robinson said: "Combined is committed to a philosophy of investing in people, enhancing lives and building for the future.

"Through this award scheme we will put our philosophy into practice.

"Throughout this competition, I believe we will see examples of the fantastic work people are doing and who, with a little help, can do a great deal more. This is a real opportunity to make it happen."

See Thursday's Falkirk Herald for full details of how to apply for the cash bonanza.
